

'Coming Home'

with June Watts

A long Easter weekend of deep dancing.

Michaelgarth near Monmouth
Friday 30th March - Monday 2nd April 2018

Through a journey in dances that take us traveling through the 'wilderness' we come home finally to the self, the Self, the whole inner dancer, into the body, and know our home as being both the earth and the infinite universe.

"When I dance I know who I am! I feel Centred and Connected with All things."

PLACE: -

Easter is a magical time at Michaelgarth, the self-catering retreat house of Ty Mawr Convent. It is set in beautiful country, two miles from the village of Trellech, (Tri-lech - three stones). These standing stones are aligned with the Winter Solstice sunset.

Leaving Monmouth on A40 towards Abergavenny turn left on to B4293 towards Chepstow. Keep on B4293 for 3 miles after the old Toll House. Turn left to Penalt and Whitebrook and the left fork to Penalt. You will pass Ty Mawr convent on your right. Drive past this entrance to the next gates on the right which lead into Michaelgarth.

WHITE CLOTHES: -

Please bring white clothes for Sunday evening.

ACCOMODATION: -

Fully residential.

FOOD: -

Delicious home-cooked organic food.

Please indicate any special dietary needs when booking.

TIME: -

The weekend begins with supper at 6 pm on Friday 30th March, and the circle forms at 7.30pm. You are welcome any time after 4.00pm.

It ends after lunch on Monday 2nd April.
